

Clinical Integration – Clinical Research

Just by nature, clinical research requires 'big data'. Sentry Data Cube is our integrated data warehouse delivering meaningful record sets for your individual research project. The Microsoft Excel-based and web-based tools, coming with 'the cube' provide an easy access to your data. For big research programs Sentry Data Cube serves a high performance data source supporting all well-known statistical analysis platforms.

Advantages

- High performance access to your data
- Built-in tools to query the Sentry Data Cube
- Stable, long-term supported interface to your data
- Highly scalable – from small, ad-hoc projects to sophisticated, large scale statistical programs
- The easy way to be up-to-date – work with automatic daily updated data
- Customizable to exactly fit your research needs
